FOREWORD

The chief purpose of any annual is to bring back memories. If, in the following pages the traditions, activities, and recreations which to a great extent make up the student life, are recorded sufficiently well, then it may be considered a success. We leave the decision in the hands of the reader.

APPRECIATION

TO maintain as well as to improve the high standards of this annual publication, has been the ideal towards which The Roundup staff has expended its energies. Such a goal could not have been attained, had not the business men of Great Falls demonstrated their interest in our school and class by giving financial support, the measure of which is apparent in this volume. In honor of them and in appreciation of their whole-hearted interests, we assign the following pages as a testimonial of our gratitude.

TO THE PUPILS OF G. F. H. S.

"Your new building is a symbol of Faith, Hope, and Love:
Faith in you by those whom you will supplant;
Hope that you will surpass every other generation which has preceded you;
Love that accepts sacrifice today in order that your tomorrow may be improved.

"You are daily creating within the material shell of your new building the Soul and Spirit of a great High School. Working together for the good of all, you are giving proof that the age of selfishness and ruthless striving to 'get ahead' of the other fellow is beginning to yield to a nobler age of love for one's neighbor. As Dewey puts it: No matter how much one does for oneself what endures is only what is done for others.

"Prepare yourselves, therefore, to serve others. Make real the dreams and the longings not yet realized by those who have provided for you this new building of opportunity.

"'To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high'."

High School Principal

Merle C. Gallagher

"Have you ever stopped to consider the significance of this title? In earlier Montana days the roundup was a major activity. It then meant a check-up as to material resources—an arduous task, but life itself.

"The days of the cattle roundups are over. The 'Roundup', however, lives on in the lives of all. On its pages is told a remarkable story of toil, pleasure, and achievement. Great Falls High School is one ranch which has prospered beyond the dream of anyone of its early 'hands'. Athletic success, splendid showings in musical lines, dramatic performances that have been outstanding, club activities that are above the general level, and last, but not least, a very pronounced gain in scholastic achievement! These are but a few of the 'dividends' our 1931 spring 'Roundup' should call to our attention as a group. Does this 'Roundup' find you as an individual getting much out of your school life because you are putting forth real effort? Is your energy so spent that you will be able to stand the pace of competition after you have been graduated?

"We bid the Class of 1931, Adios! May each member merit a bountiful roundup later in life."

Vice-Principal

Harry L. Schultz

H. L. Schultz

"May this annual be to you, as it is to me, a memorial to our work and play, our trials and victories of the school year of 1930-31. In after years as we open its pages we review in memory our friendships, as the faces once so familiar, now often gone, gaze out at us. Then, and then only, will we fully appreciate the work of those who made this volume possible."

Dean of Girls

Miss Mayme Murchie

"During the last ten years the enrollment of our school has increased over one hundred per cent, with a corresponding increase of fifty per cent in our faculty members. Since 1920, the school of eight hundred ninety-eight, with a faculty of forty members, has grown to a school of eighteen hundred thirty, with a faculty of sixty-five members. This rapid growth in numbers has naturally weakened the closer relationship of pupil with pupil, and teacher with pupil which existed in the smaller school. Realizing the need of meeting this new problem of adjustment, the board of education chose one member of the faculty to look after the best interests of the girls. Adjusting programs when necessary, assisting in finding work outside of school, guiding and advising girls in difficulties arising between pupil and pupil, or between pupil and teacher, or making the girl life of the school happier and more worthwhile—this is the work of the dean of girls."

Guidance

Edward N. Tisdale

"The guidance movement, where it has been effectively introduced, has wrought many desirable changes in the school system.

"The real spirit of the movement one individual very aptly expressed as a plan 'of seeing through Johnnie and seeing Johnnie through'.

"If you analyze that statement carefully you can readily understand the magnitude of the task of guidance. It is giving a new point of view to the teacher. It is turning attention from subject matter to pupils.

" 'Seeing through Johnnie' is not done by guesswork, but definite objective measures of ability, achievement, interest, and attitudes must be secured.

"Guidance leads directly to emphasis on individual differences; and individual differences call for specialized courses. Thus the administration that commits itself to the task of continuing by 'seeing Johnnie through' is brought face to face with the issue of providing a curriculum which will meet the peculiar need of every boy and girl.

"During this past year we have but scratched the surface. We regret that more could not be offered to the present Seniors, yet we feel that you are well prepared to face the problems of life, and we certainly wish you God speed."

High School Finance

Miss Donna Henry

The administration, during the winter of 1930, instituted a financial system devoted primarily towards the handling of money for extra-curricular activities. Our school treasury tends to serve as a central depository through which all the clubs and organizations do their banking.

This smooth working system is known as "The Great Falls High School Activities Fund." Miss Donna Henry, of the high school commercial department, is the treasurer of this organization.

The treasurer keeps a separate accounting of each organization. In order to secure the payment of debts, the club must notify the Student Activities Treasurer, who then draws a check against the funds of the organization. In order to make a purchase, the club's treasurer must make out a requisition blank, signed by the sponsor and the president. When the purchase is made, the requisition is given to the business firm, who in turn presents it to the school treasurer, accompanied with the bill.

History of Class of 1932

September, 1928, there entered Great Falls High School a group of ambitious, steadfast, and energetic Freshmen. It did not take this lively and loyal bunch long to prove their worth to the rest of the school and win for themselves the title of "the most up and coming class that ever entered the Great Falls High." Starting their enviable career by overwhelmingly winning the Hi-Life campaign, they left the upper classmen gaping, for never before had a Freshman class succeeded in capturing this trophy. The following semester saw the feat repeated, and the Class of '32 was securely established as a necessary factor of G. F. H. S.

At the beginning of the second semester the class was organized with Bob Severance as president. His leadership was ably backed by William Sanford as vice-president; Robert Speck, secretary; and Virgil Fisher, treasurer. Mr. Ralph G. Bailey was chosen to sponsor the class capably through its multitude of victories as well as through its disappointments.

Early spring found the youngest band of the school again coming to the front with an all-school dance that won the admiration of all. A few weeks later they put over the fish pond at the Booster Carnival in a way that all other classes have used for a model.

Returning the next fall as Sophomores, the Class of '32 inaugurated Class Week. At this time all members of the class wore ribbons designating their class colors, and a special Sophomore edition of the Hi-Life was published. Again this class won the Hi-Life campaign; both semesters by large margins, thus making this a regular habit. Two all-school mixers were given during the year, and the crowds testified as to their success.

For the second year Bob Severance was re-elected as president of the class, while Leonard Gaines was chosen vice-president; Mazie Richardson, secretary; and Bob Speck, treasurer.

It was entirely fitting that the presentation of the first play in the new High School, "Robin Hood," should fall to this class at the beginning of its Junior year. Under the excellent direction of Miss Florence M. Rees, the play was well produced and scored a success. Also about this time a peppy new school song, "Fight Away," was written by one of our members. Moreover, the class was triumphant once again in the Hi-Life contest, carrying away first honors in the first semester battle. A Christmas dance, put on December 19, in the New Gym, raised still higher the standards of the '32 band. This year's officers are Lee Rothweiler, president; Mazie Richardson, vice-president; Bill Sanford, secretary; and Robert Severance, treasurer.

The best year still remains to this class for its members to accomplish even greater things, until the curtain rings down for the final time of high school life and scenes.

History of Class of '33

When the Class of 1933 entered the halls of the Great Falls High School, there was the swing of freedom in their stride. Where was the timidity, the traditional hesitancy of the Freshmen? The Class had lost both of these traits during the time they had come up to the High School building for their Seventh grade classes, after their own Junior High School had suffered serious damage by fire. Being a pretty adventurous sort, they grasped the opportunity to explore every nook and corner of the building; hence their familiarity with its twists and turns immediately on their arrival. In spite of the congested conditions of the old high school building, the '33 tribe turned what might have been a handicap into an enviable record.

In the All-School Carnival the fish-pond was in charge of the Class of '33, which made a big success of it, as anyone who patronized this sportsman's paradise will tell you, distributing to their ardent customers such useful articles as button-hooks, empty perfume bottles, and cracked phonograph records. Although the class held only second place in the Hi-Life campaigns, Emil Beaulaurier won the salesmanship prize both semesters. When the group organized in the second semester, it elected the following officers: President, Emil Beaulaurier; vice-president, June Briggs; secretary-treasurer, Bob Clary; sponsor, Mr. Ellsworth Lumley.

This year of 1930 and 1931 has been a year of big changes. We changed schools, entering the new million-dollar building. We changed sponsors (now being under the able leadership of Miss Sponheim). We changed our opinion of upperclassmen, being no longer Frosh. The present officers are: President, Emil Beaulaurier; vice-president, Arthur Gonser; secretary, Fay Sederholm; and treasurer, Margaret Stevenson.

The Class of '33 figured prominently in the Hi-Life campaign this year, the salesmanship prize again being awarded to Emil Beaulaurier. The class came third in the Roundup sale. In athletics several members of the class have contributed to its fame. Elmer Bofto and Rolph Fjelstad both made the first team in football, and received their letters. First place was captured in the Class League by our basketball team. Many of the members of the class are in the Orchestra, have offices in clubs, and have gained the limelight in school activities other than those mentioned here.

With such a start as this, what may the Class of '33 not do in the next two years.?

Freshman Class History

The month of September, nineteen hundred and thirty, is memorable in the lives of seven hundred and fifty young people of Great Falls for two reasons. First, they entered Great Falls High School, which in itself was an important step for them. Second, they had the honor of being the first Freshman Class in the fine New High School building. Of this fact they are very proud, and they intend to establish a record during their four years which will prove to the citizens of Great Falls that their investment was worthwhile; and also a record which future classes will be proud to live up to. This Class of '34 was also the largest Freshman Class which ever entered Great Falls High School.

In one respect only do the Freshmen expect to lower themselves during their high school career, and that is in the matter of Assembly seats. They rather enjoy being able to look down upon the upper classmen assemblies, however, since they are denied that privilege in most other school activities.

The first participation of the Freshman Class in student affairs was in the fall Hi-Life campaign, in which Gail Leach took fifth place for individual sales. Toward the end of the first semester, many of the Freshmen proved thir loyalty by buying Roundups. At the beginning of the second semester the Freshmen held their first class meeting for the purpose of organizing the class. Miss Jeannette Garver, who had been selected as class sponsor, presided. The officers elected were: Randall Tracey, president; Bob Pappin, vice-president; Stanley Armstrong, treasurer; and Don R. Larson, secretary. Under the leadership of these fine officers the Class of '34 brought to a successful conclusion its first year in Great Falls High School.

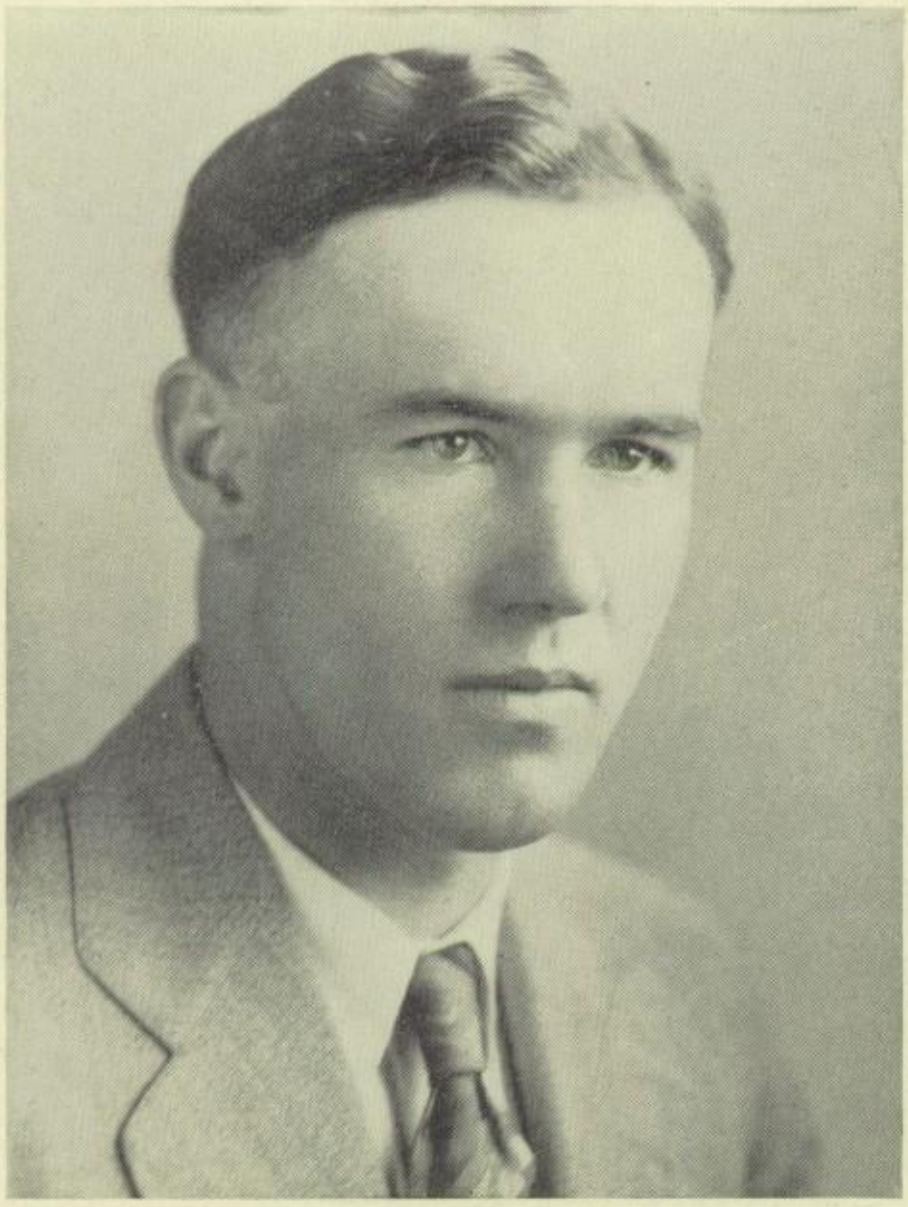
"I wish to thank the faculty for their support, also for the extra help in scholastic work given to the boys during the year.

"I also wish to thank the student body for the support we have received. I hope this will continue to improve.

"Last, but not least, I wish to thank the athletes who have given their 'all'. I hope our association has been a benefit to all. With regret I say to all Seniors, 'so long', but not goodbye."



SAM B. KAIN

Assistant Coach

"This last school year has been a thoroughly enjoyable one. I have enjoyed my association and acquaintance with both student body and faculty. The fun in anyone's work comes largely through those working with us.

"The athletic spirit of the student body increased by leaps and bounds as the year progressed. I appreciate very much the help and encouragement given our department by the faculty, student body, and the various organizations and individuals of the school and community.

"It is impossible for me to express my appreciation of the attitude and actions held by the boys out for athletics. Their fighting spirit, good fellowship, and clean sportsmanlike conduct have incurred in me one impression which I shall never forget. I am speaking for all the boys, not merely the lettermen.

"I sincerely hope that the boys in Physical Education have enjoyed the program outiined for them this past year."

September 2 found Coach Frank Jordan and Assistant Coach Sam Kain equipping their prospects for the 1930 Bison Football Team. Twelve lettermen turned out immediately for the early practice, and were followed by approximately eighty other aspirants. With only three weeks between the first turnout and the first game, Coach Jordan realized the tremendous task confronting him. Assisted by Coach Sam Kain, he put the boys through a tough practice, six days a week. The team developed slowly the first two weeks; however, Coaches Jordan and Kain were always on the job, encouraging the players, pointing out their defects, perfecting the plays, and showing the genuine interest that so obviously characterizes our coaches. During the third week of practice, the team started to show signs of improvement, and by September 20, the coaches had whipped into line a team which was to develop into one of the leading teams in the State. The Bisons were extremely light, averaging one hundred and forty-seven pounds. Although they were outweighed in every game from five to fifteen pounds to the man, their fighting spirit and smooth teamwork carried them to many glorious victories.

On September 20, at the Montana Power Park, the Blue Bisons opened one of the hardest gridiron schedules ever recorded in the history of Great Falls High School. In the initial contest Great Falls defeated the heavy Choteau eleven. The Bisons showed great reserve strength in this game, thirty-three players being used. The first eleven, although they saw little action in this game, displayed in a fighting, fast-charging line as well as a shifty, driving backfield. SCORE: GREAT FALLS 30—CHOTEAU 6

The following Saturday, the Bisons traveled to Whitefish. It was from the hands of this team that Great Falls suffered her first defeat.

The team got off to a bad start. A fumble gave Whitefish her first touchdown in less than five minutes of play. The boys in blue fought stubbornly to overcome this lead, but the big Whitefish team refused to be beaten. A sixty-yard run and another fumble gave Whitefish her other two touchdowns. Great Falls scored her only touchdown on a line plunge. The Bisons were in possession of the ball on the Whitefish ten-yard line when the gun ended the contest.

SCORE: WHITEFISH 19—GREAT FALLS 6

Recovering from their defeat, the Bisons came back strong in their next encounter, October 4, to defeat the Chinook team. Although the Sugar Beeters outweighed the Great Falls team, they seemed inexperienced and fell an easy prey to the Bisons. Pointing for the coming Butte game, Coach Jordan used his regulars very little in this game.

The next week was spent in preparation for the hardest game of the season, that with Butte High. Both coaches worked until dark each night strengthening the weak points. When Friday arrived the coaches seemed well satisfied. The players were in first class condition and on edge.

Coach Jordan started his first-team line with the shock-backfield. Butte appeared the stronger team, having quite an advantage in weight. During the first five minutes of play Butte worked the ball down to the Bisons' twenty-yard line. On the next play, Butte scored, the result of a pass.

From this point on, the Bisons showed their superiority. A twenty-yard pass, and a run of the same distance, by Murphy, netted the Bisons their first touchdown. For the first few minutes of the next quarter, the teams battled in mid-field. The Bisons then started a steady drive for the goal. Phil Lux, Bison one hundred and fifty-five pound fullback, drove through the Butte team for three first downs. On the next play, Woodahl broke loose and scored the second touchdown. At the beginning of the second half, the Bisons started another drive toward the goal, only to lose the ball on downs. After an exchange of punts, the brilliant Woodahl received a lateral pass and ran sixty yards through the Butte team for the third touchdown. During the remainder of the quarter, the teams battled on fairly even terms. Early in the fourth quarter Woodahl broke away again on a reverse play and scored the final touchdown for the Bisons. Butte then started her last prolonged drive, which resulted in a touchdown. The contest ended with Great Falls in possession of the ball. This game was one of the most spectacular contests ever played in Great Falls. The brilliant open-field running of Woodahl and Murphy, and the terrific driving power of Lux were the outstanding features of the game. It was in this game that the Great Falls line so obviously demonstrated its fighting spirit and superior ability.

The Bisons met Butte Central the following Saturday, October 18. Coach Jordan started his first team line with the shock-backfield as he had done the preceding Saturday against Butte High. Butte came within two yards of the Bisons' goal in the first quarter, but were held there by the fighting blue line. The electrics punted out of danger and during the next quarter, the ball stayed mostly in mid-field. The squads seemed to be evenly matched. A few minutes before the half ended, the Bison center, Jack Pope, broke through the Butte line, blocked Driscoll's punt, and recovered the ball to run fifty yards for the only touchdown of the game. The try for point failed. During the last half both teams fought in vain to score; however, neither team threatened.

SCORE: GREAT FALLS 6—BUTTE CENTRAL 0

The contest with Havre the following Saturday ended in a scoreless tie. The Bisons worked the ball down to the Ponies' goal line time and again, only to be held by the fighting boys from Havre. At no time during the entire contest did Havre threaten the Great Falls goal-line. The line plunging of Lux, and Patton's sixty-yard run were the outstanding performances.

Great Falls traveled to Helena for her next game. Helena displayed a dazzling passing attack which led to her third consecutive gridiron victory over Great Falls. The Bisons failed to function until the last quarter, when they scored their second touchdown. Ed Wilson, having seen little action in the preceding games because of injuries, was the sensation of the Great Falls team. Ed broke away many times for substantial gains. John Goggin, Bison tackle, displayed a stellar performance on the line.

SCORE: HELENA 15—GREAT FALLS 12

Great Falls ended her football season with the contest with Billings, played Memorial day, for the dedication of the beautiful new stadium.

The team functioned well and stopped the heavy Billings team time after time. In the third quarter, however, Billings pounded her way to her lone touchdown. Great Falls threatened in the last minutes of play when they held Billings for downs on the Broncs' ten-yard line. Two line plunges by Lux advanced the ball five yards. At this point Lux was removed from the game because of an injured ankle, which he received in the first part of the encounter. The Bisons, missing the plunging Lux, failed to score, and the game ended a few minutes later.

SCORE: BILLINGS 6—GREAT FALLS 0

With this game, the Bisons finished a very successful season. Five of the Great Falls players were placed on the all-state teams and three others were given honorable mention. We are looking forward to another successful football season under Coaches Jordan and Kain next fall.

The Great Falls High School Basketball team completed a comparatively successful season this year. Although several games were lost, the Great Falls team succeeded in winning ten out of the fifteen scheduled games. The Bison hoop squad seemed an "in and outer." In some games the team would win over some of the best squads in the State, but at other times they failed to function, and fell an easy prey to their opponents.

After playing two preliminary games against Teton and Dutton, both of which they lost, the Bisons opened their regular schedule against the Stockett-Sand Coulee five, and were defeated by a 16-to-14 count.

Denton next invaded the local stronghold and was defeated 38 to 14. This game seemed to put the Bisons on their feet, and they won their next three starts against Missoula, Helena, and Butte, respectively. Lewistown eked out a 19-to-17 victory over the Bisons in one of the best games of the season. Lewistown displayed a fast-passing team, with smooth floor work. The Bisons came back the next week better than ever by nosing out Billings, 19 to 11, and in the next two weeks they stopped Helena, 20 to 19, Butte, 23 to 22, and Teton, 23 to 20.

The Bisons went into a slump the next two week-ends and dropped games to Havre, Chinook and Billings. Back on their home floor again, the Bisons evened matters with the Havre Blue Ponies by scoring a 19-to-17 victory. Chinook's famed sugarbeeters, 1929 State champions, invaded the local floor the following week, and went down to an 18-to-7 defeat at the hands of a faster team.

JOHN DALICH
Guard

This completed their schedule and rated them as a leading contender in the sub-district meet. Great Falls took easy victories in the tourney until they met Centerville in the championship game. Here the local boys had another slump and lost, 16 to 14. At this defeat they were awarded second place in the sub-district tourney.

The District Tournament the following week was the first district meet to be held in Great Falls for several years. The new high school gym, which now afforded comfortable accommodations to the spectators, proved a drawing card, and large crowds attended the games. The circus bleachers were put up for the last two days of the tournament in order to accommodate the increasing attendance.

ROBERT SPECK
Forward

In the District Tournament the Blue Bisons blazed higher than ever. In the second night of battle, Great Falls lost to Chinook, 28 to 24—this game shattered the Bisons' aspirations for a District Championship. The next day, however, the boys came back and beat Centerville, 23 to 9; Choteau, 33 to 28, and in the last game that night they took the fast Havre team, 33 to 10. As Chinook had already placed first, Great Falls, having made a wonderful impression on the spectators, finished second in the District Tourney.

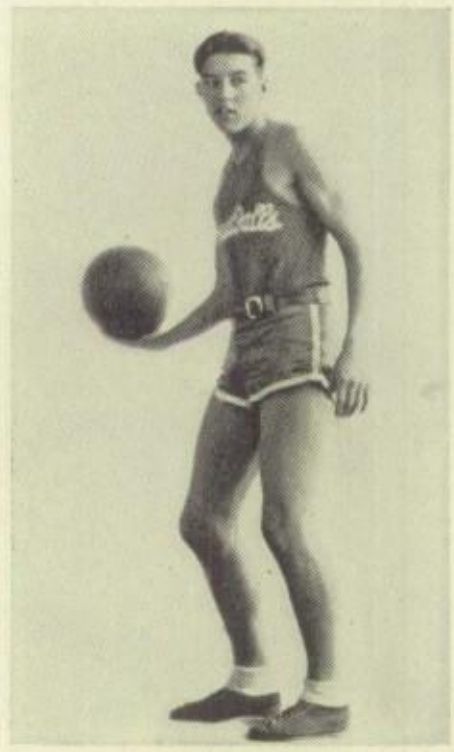
The players were then given a short period of rest before the strenuous preparation for the State Tournament. They resumed practice a week before the tournament, and left Great Falls for Bozeman with high hopes of returning with a State championship.

THOMAS SUTTON
Center

In the State Tournament the Great Falls boys lost their first game to a strong Livingston aggregation, 33 to 15. The next day the local boys fell into a bad slump and lost their last game to Plains, 26 to 23. With this game the Bisons were eliminated from further competition.

The Great Falls team can be put down this year as one of the strongest de- one of the strongest defensive teams that Great Falls has ever produced. During the season they held their opponents to an average of 16 2/3 points per game, while they themselves averaged 17 points.

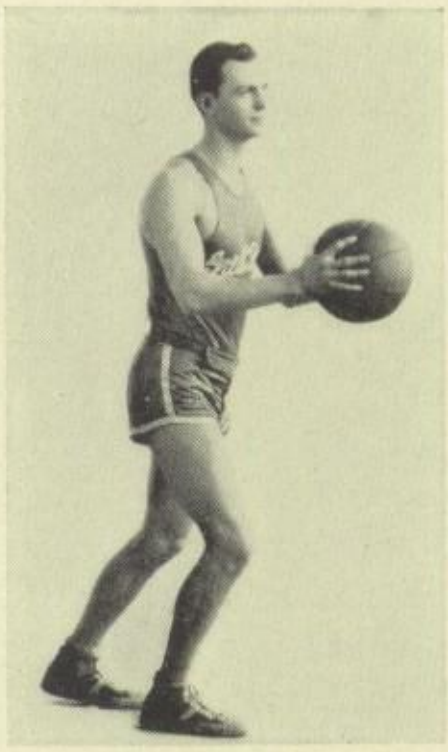
NORRIS QUAM
Forward



LLOYD WOODAHL
Forward

In the sub-district tournament, they held their opponents to a 14 2/3 points average. In the district tourney, they ran up several high scores, finishing with a 32-point average, against the 18-point average of their opponents.

This year seven of the Bisons' hoop squad will hang up their suits for the last time in Great Falls High. Those leaving us will be Woodahl, Patton, Cooley, Wilson, Goggin, and Sutton. These boys have given everything in their power to make the Bison Basketball team a winner, and it is with many regrets that they leave Great Falls High.



ROBERT PATTON
Forward

Next year, Dalich, Speck, Quam, and the thirteen players from the Reserve squad, will be eligible for the first team, and we can assure you that these boys will strive their utmost to produce a championship team next year.

The boys on the Basketball team this year were somewhat handicapped by their height. None of the players reached the six-foot mark. The Bisons were extremely fast, and displayed wonderful passing ability and floorwork —these factors offset, to a great extent, their size.

Ed. Wilson, Bison center, proved to be a dependable pivot man. Eddy could always be counted on to score two or three times during a contest. Robert "Tex" Patton, another veteran on the Basketball floor, often demonstrated his superior ability at the game. Patton's "dead eye" was the doom of many opposing teams. Ford Cooley and Lloyd Woodahl drew the attention of many fans by their skill in handling the ball. Both these midget forwards could be counted on in a pinch, and they usually came through with the deciding score. The Bison guards, John Dalich, John Goggin and Don Smith, were very adept at their portion of the game. Johnny Goggin starred in many games. Along with his skillful guarding, he usually managed to slip in a basket or two. Dalich, who will be back next year, played in many of the games, alternating with Don Smith, another stellar guard. By their dexterous guarding, they gained even the admiration of their opponents.

Basketball Reserves

The basketball turnout was extremely large this year. In order that most of the boys turning out for basketball could obtain experience at the game, Coaches Jordan and Kain organized two High School teams to enter in a basketball league that was to be conducted at the Y. M. C. A. These teams were called the High School A team and the High School B team. The A team was made up of possible contenders for the regular high school team who had not previously made their letter in this sport. The members of this team were: Ed. Wilson, John Dalich, Robert Speck, Norris Quam, James Mathews, Donald Smith, Ford Cooley, Thomas Sutton, Mervin Schaefer, and Perry Walsh. The B team was composed of the younger boys of the school who will be promising material for the regular team in a few years. The members of this team were: Harry Briggs, Arthur Gonser, Wayne Brandt, Mack Pope, Lee Rothweiler, Robert Read, LaRue Smith, Robert Willett, Joe Strizich and Owen Murphy.

The A team placed second in the first series of games. The league closed with the DeMolay team and the High School A team tied for first place. A game was scheduled between the two teams to decide the championship. The game was extremely close, and ended in a tie. An extra period was played, during which the DeMolay team scored, and captured the championship title.

The A team now dissolved, most of the players having been chosen for the regular High School team. The B team, however, continued playing at the Y. M. C. A., and entered the second league held there. Although this team did not place in the final standing, the players received much valuable experience which will aid them in their next year's games.

GIRLS' SPORTS

MISS RUTH NICKEY

GIRLS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Enrollment in Girls' Physical Education classes was increased greatly this year due to the fact that we now have a full-time instructor in the high school department—making it possible to hold classes five days a week rather than two.

Three years of Physical Education are now required for graduation. Approximately seven hundred girls were enrolled throughout the year and partook of a varied activity program.

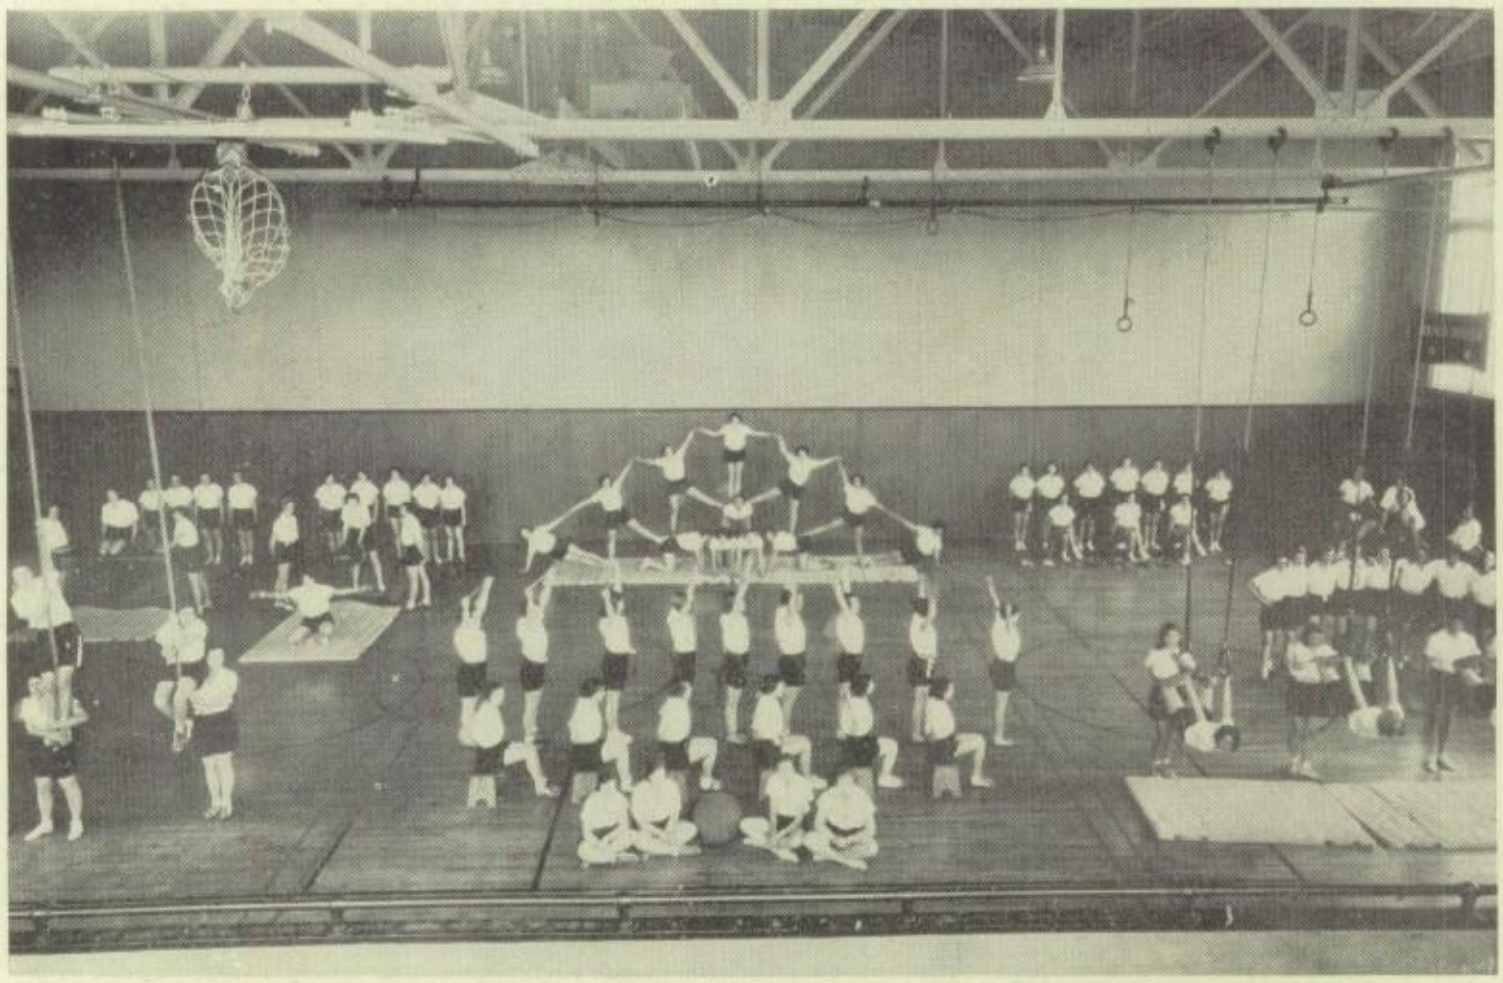
The splendid new gymnasium with locker rooms and showers has been very much appreciated by students and teachers. Our equipment has made possible a much more healthful, joyful and beneficial course.

In the fall all girls enrolled were given physical and medical examinations—those found needing individual corrective exercises were placed in special classes. As soon as the individual corrects her weakness she is allowed to join the regular classes. Exercises were given for weak or flat feet, lateral and posterior spinal curvatures and general poor posture. The girls have been very interested in improvement and in many cases have accomplished excellent results.

Besides the regular gymnasium classes, the special classes of Tumbling and Clogging have been very popular with the girls.

Basketball occupied half of the second semester, and all girls desiring this sport were given an opportunity to participate. A great deal of interest was shown for tennis, and a tournament was held. Some class instruction was given, but only a few could be accommodated, as the games had to be played on the gymnasium floor. Track and Baseball were spring events that interested many.

GIRLS' GYMNASIUM



All year more enthusiasm was shown for girls' athletics because of the new gym with its new equipment and better advantages. All equipment in the gym is new and offers chances for work in numerous athletic activities.

Equipment in the new gym. includes tumbling ropes, traveling rings, flying rings (three sets), stall bars and benches, basketballs, service balls, wands, mats, volleyballs and nets, baseball bats and balls, Indian clubs and dumb-bells, parallel bars, horse, buck, piano and a Victrola.

Courses offered in the department are: Apparatus work, foot-class, corrective class, tumbling, posture work, clogging, service-ball and basketball. So many advantages are offered because of different interests to be found in a school of this size.

The year has marked the beginning of a higher standard of physical education in Great Falls High School. Crowded conditions and lack of facilities in the old high school proved handicaps both to instructor and pupils. But better facilities and conditions have made Girls' Athletics and general education a pleasure to the girls and instructors alike.

The new point system introduced by the Girls' Athletic Club also played its part in bringing about greater interest in girls' sports.

During the basketball season of the year 1930-31, much interest was shown in the games. Many girls turned out for practice and as a result a great number of tournaments were held.

The first of these tournaments was the Class Tournament, held by girls in the Monday-Wednesday and Tuesday-Thursday classes. The winning team of this tournament was the Fifth period gym. class of the Monday-Wednesday group. Good material was discovered in all classes and the tournament showed the enthusiasm of all the girls in the sport.

The next tournament to take place was the contest for the open-hour classes. Girls from all classes came out for this tournament, and teams were picked from among the girls who came out for basketball. This tournament was never finished on account of the District Basketball tournament, which took place at that time. Good material was uncovered, nevertheless.

A third tournament which was held was the contest between All-Star Class teams. The Senior team was victor in this series of games; the Freshman team was second; the Juniors placed third; and the Sophomores were fourth. This tournament was well attended by members of classes who were interested, and a fine spirit of rivalry as well as sportsmanship was shown.

A school team was chosen from among the outstanding girls in all classes. This selection was carefully made, after many of the tournaments. The girls were chosen for their outstanding work in the previous games.

Lucy O'Neil, Dorothy Halliday, Grace Johnson, Barbara Dunn Keith, Olive Lewis, Germaine Corcoran, Marian Kernan, Bernadene Skaw, Bessie Fagenstrom, Margaret Stevenson, Carol Tuck, Margaret McGuire, Margaret Holmes, Adeline Jewett, Julianne Preston, Marjory Sheehan.

Four girls from each class were chosen for class leadership. These girls were ones who had shown outstanding ability in gymnastics and an enthusiasm for girls' sports. Among some of their duties as class leaders were included: checking on girls in showers, checking in locker-rooms, taking roll, reading announcements, looking after apparatus, and such duties.

Class leaders proved to be a great help to Miss Nickey in gym. classes. The experience gained by the girls was of great value to them also.

Music

Miss Ruth Bishop
Director

The Music Department of the Great Falls High School, under the direction of Miss Ruth Bishop, offers the following courses at the present time: Music Education I and II, Courses in Music History, Theory and Appreciation for Freshmen and Sophomores, respectively; Harmony I, Boys' Glee Club, Girls' Glee Club, Mixed Chorus and Orchestra. Besides these, small groups such as violin, cello, and piano trio, string quartette, girls' duet, boy and girl duet, and girls' sextette have been organized and practiced regularly. There are 65 enrolled in orchestra, 35 in Boys' Glee Club and 75 in Girls' Glee Club.

Perhaps the outstanding musical event of the year was "The Red Mill," a two-act musical comedy, by Victor Herbert, presented at the High School auditorium, February 7, by 150 members of the Glee Clubs and Orchestra. The Glee Clubs, entire orchestra, and a number of smaller groups presented the annual High School program for the Tuesday Music Club, February 17.

The Glee Clubs as a whole, and smaller groups from them have sung at various events throughout the year.

The Orchestra has played for assemblies, clubs, "The Red Mill," "Robin Hood," "Smilin' Through," "So This Is London," Baccalaureate, Commencement and a great many other occasions. About 40 of the members played in the All-State Orchestra in Great Falls last October.

In addition to merely training the student to sing or play an instrument, the Music Department aims to develop character, to enrich and beautify the lives of the students who are truly interested, by developing a real appreciation for good music—whether they are to be listeners or performers.

The Red Mill

On February 7, "The Red Mill" was presented in the High School auditorium. The occasion marked a climax in the notable record of local amateur entertainment. A three-act musical comedy, from its very nature, must be classified as a tremendous undertaking. Unless the proper instruction is given in dramatic work and there is an efficient orchestra to furnish the required musical scores, the musical comedy might tend to have too much of the "comedy" in it. We, as members of the Student Body, should be proud, not only that such an undertaking was courageously attempted with complete confidence in the talent of our students, but that the success of the venture surprised the highest expectations. It will be remembered that on the night of the performance, over 500 persons were turned away from the box office.

For the past year, extensive use has been made of the stage lighting system. It proved of exceptional help in "The Red Mill," where the lighting effects and costuming served to produce an atmosphere both pleasant and fanciful.

It is needless to say that such a performance was possibly only through the cooperation of two of the school's largest departments. Miss Rees handled the Dramatic end, while Miss Bishop took care of the Orchestra accompaniment. The two aforementioned instructors were assisted by Miss Isadora Huff, who arranged the dancing; Miss Edna M. Garner, accompanist; Mr. Ernest Bergren, technician; Bruce Nordeen, technical director; Arthur Neumann, electrician; Hubert Shane, scenic executor; William Olsen, business manager; Miss Donna B. Henry and Mrs. Agnes Bergren, who acted as financial managers; and Lois Goodwin and Bessie Fagenstrom, costumers.

MISS FLORENCE REES

The High School has been particularly fortunate this year in having obtained the services of Miss Rees, instructor in dramatics and public-speaking. Under her careful supervision, many programs have been prepared for the entertainment of the Student Body.

Miss Rees possesses a strong personality which is felt by all with whom she comes in contact.

After having been issued for ten years under the name of "The Hi-Life", the school paper was re-named this year as "The Iniwa." This is a Blackfoot Indian expression, meaning "The Bison," representing the emblem or insignia of Great Falls High School. During the year, "The Iniwa" joined three press associations, namely; Columbia Scholastic Press Association, in which the publication was given a fourth place honor rating in the nation; National Scholastic Press Association, and Montana Scholastic Press Association. Besides this, four individual staff members, Jack Roney, Vera Bauer, Bill Muir and Ralph Foster were chosen for membership on the Quill and Scroll roll, an International Honor Society for High School journalists.

Jack Roney, Editor-in-Chief, was chosen President of the Montana Scholastic Editorial Association for the year, and together with Mr. Garver, sponsor, attended the State meeting in Missoula, in May.

The year of 1930-31 has been a beginning for the Class of '31 rather than an end—a beginning in a new school, in a new environment. As Seniors, we have had to be the leaders in making history for the new school, and we are proud to present this, the first chapter of that new history. After all, The Roundup is just a chapter in High School life, presented each year by the graduating class.

Although a school makes its history, someone must make a record of it so that history may be preserved. The Roundup staff is made up of students who have scholarship about the average; who have time for such work; and who are willing to devote themselves to the tasks. The staff is composed of Seniors, and a few Junior representatives, who will be the nucleus for the next year's staff.

In the past, The Roundup subscription campaign has been a feature of Roundup Day which included a contest among classes as well as individuals. However, this year the campaign was held during the first semester, in order that the staff could better plan the financial side of the book.

Edgar Schenk and Berger and Cregor Fagenstrom made the attractive posters used for the campaign.

We, the Class of 1931, present this chapter of High School history for the approval of its readers with the sincere hope that we have chronicled a chapter which will be long remembered by them.

The Art Department contribution to The Roundup is ten linoleum blocks cut in three-color process. The designs are original and appropriate for Montana. They were made by the class in Commercial Art as a regular project, so that competition was open to every member. The use of three colors and the additional colors resulting from overprinting was a difficult undertaking. The four blocks used for each design had to be perfectly registered. This was accomplished in the Printing Shop by Mr. Paulsen, who made off-sets and proofs for every block. Mr. Savage, in the wood shop, mounted the linoleum and planed the blocks. The Art Department wishes to acknowledge this cooperation which made the project possible.

Following the order of the prints in the book, the list below gives the names of the students who made the cuts.

Ex-Libris—designed and cut by Glenn Shelton.
1. Designed and cut by Tom Lambert.
2. Designed and cut by Mabelle Willcomb.
3. Designed by Jack Richardson, cut by Cregor Fagenstrom.
4. Designed and cut by Ladora Kerr.
5. Designed by Grace Barnett, cut by Ladora Kerr.
6. Designed by Edgar Schenk, cut by Cregor Fagenstrom.
7. Designed by Lyle Wood, cut by Tom Lambert.
8. Designed and cut by Berger Fagenstrom.
9. Designed by Jack Richardson, cut by Mabelle Willcomb.
10. Designed by Julia Goodman, cut by Mabelle Willcomb.

The Senate Debating Club for boys was founded early in the fall of 1914. It now possesses the distinction of being the oldest club in school.

The organization exists for a definite purpose, namely, to develop to the highest possible degree in the average student, powers of practical self-expression. To acquire experience, debates among members are regularly conducted at each meeting. The year's activities are customarily climaxed by the annual debate between the Senate and the Forum (girls' debating club).

Among other things accomplished during the past year, the Senate feels especially proud to have invested twenty-five dollars in debating books, which may now be found in the school library. Members of the club feel that the past year has been spent to a great advantage.

The Forum Debating Club for girls was established in 1920, under the sponsorship of Miss Mayme Murchie. Its purpose is to give members practice in debate and to familiarize them with events of the day. The membership, which is limited to thirty, is composed of students maintaining a "C" average in their studies. A person desiring membership in the club must be accepted by a two-thirds vote of those present, and in addition, give a three-minute extemporaneous talk. The president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and chairman of the program committee comprise the officers of the club. Miss Helen McLaren is now the sponsor.

The Music Club was founded in nineteen hundred and twenty-two. At present Miss Ruth Bishop, supervisor of all musical activities of the High School, is sponsor.

The main purpose of the club is to create and maintain in the minds of its members a keener appreciation for classical music composers, and their works are taken up. Stories of the better-known operas are given. In connection with these stories, many selections from the operas are played. All these things reveal to the members the value of finer music and thus stimulate an interest in this field.

The Home Economics Club of the Great Falls High School was organized in February, 1923. In September, 1929, the club was divided, forming the Alpha and Beta divisions.

The Alpha division is a member of the Montana Home Economics Association, and by virtue of this is affiliated with the American Home Economics Association, and permitted to wear the student club pins of that organization.

At Christmas the Alpha division joined with the Beta and Gamma divisions in the annual Christmas Kid Party. In the spring they joined in a Co-ed Prom, which they hope to make an annual affair.

The members contributed their share to the Booster Carnival, having as usual the home-made candy.

The programs this year have been particularly interesting, including information talks on home economics subjects, readings, dances, and musical numbers, as well as social gatherings.

A point system was used by the Art Club this year. This system required each member to earn one hundred points, points being earned by participation in club programs, keeping art notebooks, and engaging in other activities.

A new project was undertaken in making and selling Christmas cards. The cards were cut from linoleum blocks, which were afterward printed, and painted by members of the Art Club. The sales garnered from these novelties put the Art Club on a firm financial basis.

Many other interesting curios were sold at the Booster Carnival, chief among them being gaily dressed lollypops, funny faces, and decorated balloons. We may safely say that the past year has been most successful.

The highest honor that may come to a High School student is admission to the National Honor Society. Members are chosen for character, scholarship, leadership, and service. The torch, the symbol of the society, is figuratively speaking carried on from class to class. Each year a small percentage of the Juniors and a larger percentage of the Seniors are chosen as representative students having these four qualities.

The Honor Society is not only merely an honorary organization, but is also an organization with a purpose. The aims of the society vary from year to year, according to the members. One very fine study carried on by this group is the study of colleges and universities; their standings and requirements.

Then, too, it should be the aim of every member of the Honor Society to make his or her influence felt in the school life whether in character, in service, in leadership, or in scholarship, so that the torch may be carried from class to class.

The design of the Booster Club is for the preferment of athletics, and this club was behind every move to support the work of the Athletic Department. As a group, the club put on many pep assemblies in the fall of the past school year. Snake dances and pep rallies perpetually originated in the brains of some loyal Boosters. The club proudly point to the new score board in the gymnasium, the Pep band, the cheer leaders, and the all-school carnival, all of which were the result of this influential club. Miss Anne Houliston, ably assisted by Miss Marjorie Macrae, deserve considerable credit for the club's outstanding work.

The Business Club has been in existence in Great Falls High School since 1924. Since that time its membership has steadily increased until now it has approximately 125 members, membership being restricted to Juniors and Seniors who are taking commercial subjects. The purpose of this club is to acquaint the members with the business world, this being made possible by the many down-town business men who have taken their time to come up and address the group, and by trips to business places, and reports. The club is sponsored by Miss Frankie Brown and Miss Ella Nelson.

A new G. A. C. has been formed this year on a point system basis, the members of last year's club as charter members.

Last spring Miss Huff's classes decided by a popular vote that a type of re-organization seemed necessary as all girls who were interested could not be accommodated.

The aim of the new club is to promote interest in Physical Education. Any girl who will earn one hundred and fifty points is eligible. After she is a member she must continue to earn points to retain her membership. A G. A. C. emblem will be given as an award to all girls earning 1200 points by the new system.

Points may be earned in organized, unorganized and hygienic activities, such as tumbling, basketball, serve-us ball, track, tennis, bicycling, swimming, walking, skating, golf, posture, heart, eye-ear-nose and throat, teeth examinations; wearing hygienic shoes to school, and abiding by certain health rules for a specific time.

At a picnic supper given near Big Falls, fifteen girls were initiated into the club in February.

The girls sponsored two dances during the year, and their interest has been keen for the gymnasium activities throughout this school term.

The Bookkeeping Club originated in 1927, and consisted of thirteen members. In its few years of existence it has grown until now one hundred and thirty-five students are registered. Membership is open to all present bookkeeping pupils and members of the preceding advanced class.

The outstanding purposes for which the club is organized are the preparation of the students for the business world and advancement of worthy friendship among the members. These purposes have been accomplished by the club's numerous commercial, industrial and social activities.

Series of lectures have been given by Great Falls business men who are specializing in certain phases of commercial work. Bookkeepers are being made more efficient by the machine-work projects and by working for the final Palmer Method Business Certificates.

Among the social events are yearly picnics for the club and all school mixers, the last of which was held February thirteenth.

The success of the club has been due to the active enthusiasm of its members.

Beta Division of the Great Falls Home Economics Club was organized in September, 1929, when the membership had become large enough to make two divisions. The club is affiliated with the American Home Economics Association, and stands for service to the community in which it is organized.

The main event of the club as a whole was the Co-ed Costume Prom, sponsored by all three divisions.

Participation in the Booster Carnival and a program given at the County Farm, were special events of the Beta division.

Some very interesting meetings were a talk by Miss Houliston on "French and English Food," a study of Japanese home conditions, and a stunt night.

On November 7, 1930, the Bird Club was organized in the Great Falls High School. The purpose of the club was to learn the names and values of our local birds. Mr. Rumford, Mrs. Willey, Reverend Nelson, Mr. Oliver, Mr. Schaudies, Mr. L. Nelson, and Mr. Lemmer visited the club and gave interesting talks on their experiences with birds.

Feeling that the club could accomplish more by being affiliated with a National organization, the Bird Club joined the National Audubon Bird Society.

For almost two years, Le Cercle Francais has been an outstanding factor in the development of the French Department of Great Falls High School. To learn the fundamentals of the French language, to speak it correctly, to place the pupils and teachers in more intimate relationship, and to become acquainted with the customs and conditions of France is the purpose of the club. Those who have attended regularly have been greatly benefited by educational and social activities. The club owes much of its success to Miss Edna Garner and Miss Unarose Flannery, sponsors, and to Miss Marie Leaming, its founder.

El Circulo Espanol has had a very active and profitable year. This club, which was organized in the fall of 1929, has aimed to give its members a better knowledge of the customs and characteristics of Spanish speaking people, as well as to aid them in learning the language. Two meetings are held each month at which the students sing and hear Spanish songs, discuss Spanish countries, or present plays and give talks in Spanish. Occasionally talks have been given by people who have traveled in these countries. In this way much is learned of our interesting neighbors in Mexico and South America, as well as of the people in far away Spain.

At Christmas time, El Circulo Espanol gave money to the Red Cross to aid in local relief work.

With a membership of one hundred seventy-three, one of the largest of any of the school clubs, the Romani Moderni, or Latin Club, has done a great deal for the personal benefit of its members, the school, and the community during the school year 1930-31. In December, twenty-five dollars was given to charitable organizations of the city for their Christmas funds, and a food campaign was conducted in the school for the benefit of the same organizations.

On March 20, a party was given in the school gymnasium for the members and the faculty. Games, a program, and dancing provided the entertainment for the evening.

Then, in commemoration of the bimillenium of Vergil's birth, his bust was placed in the school library as a gift from the Latin Club, to the students of Great Falls High School.

The prime purpose of this club is to promote interest among the Student Body in the classics. The programs are characterized by features having a direct bearing on the students' subjects and their parallels in modern life.

Miss Johanna B. Velikanje, Miss Josie Churchill, and Miss Helen Ross have sponsored the club this year.

The Tormentors Club was organized in 1929, for the primary purpose of caring for the Stage of the New High School. Special instruction was given those members interested in the new stage by the contractors. When the members entered the new school in the fall of 1930, they made plans to extend the control of the club to care for the ushering as well as the staging. Therefore, the House Division is an addition to the original body, which is at present designated as the Stage Division.

The Tormentors Club has staged every appearance in the new auditorium and has built all special scenery.

With two airports in the city, students of Great Falls High School have come to take an active interest in aircraft. This interest first developed into a thing of substance when, in 1930, the Aeronautics Club was founded. Meetings are conducted in groups of two. They occur on the first and third Wednesdays and Saturdays of each month—the Wednesdays being devoted to the discussion of topics connected with aeronautics, while the Saturdays are used in experimenting and in the construction of model aeroplanes. This club is particularly fortunate in having use of the shop and the services of Mr. Savage, who has served as sponsor for the past year.

In September, 1930, Gamma division was organized to take care of the large group of girls who wished to join the Home Economics groups. Miss Kimball was selected as sponsor, and an election placed LaRue Samuelson as president; Louise Patterson, vice-president; Dorothy Jones, secretary; and Echo Johnson as treasurer. A Kiddies' Christmas party was held before the holidays by all the Home Economic clubs. In January, second term officers were elected, with Julia Goodman as president, Echo Johnson, vice-president; Dorothy Jones, secretary, and Frances Patterson as treasurer.

In April, Gamma, with Alpha and Beta, instigated a costume Co-ed Prom which the clubs hope to make an annual affair.

Membership in the club is restricted to only those who are, or have been enrolled in the department. Being affiliated with the American Home Economics Association, our members are entitled to wear the National Student club pins with a G-guard for the local chapter.

The Mathematics Club was organized early in the school year of 1930-31, with Mrs. Margaret V. Pierson as sponsor.

A constitution and by-laws were adopted wherein the purpose of the club was stated as: "To create a better appreciation, understanding, and interest in mathematics than can regularly be secured in daily classes." Officers were elected and committees appointed who, in addition to promoting other interesting activities, have directed the programs given the first and third Fridays of each month. The membership has been limited this year to forty.

This is the only club in school composed wholly of Freshmen.

Organized this year under the direction of Mr. W. W. Garver, the Press Club, or Thirty Scribes, has made itself well known during its first year of activity. It was begun for the benefit of high school students interested in Journalism, whether they were on the school paper staff or not.

During the course of the year, the club has sponsored various school assemblies, and organized rooting sections for games.

Membership in this organization is limited to thirty, and is determined on the basis of a mark received on a test given applicants, previous work on the school paper, and interest in the subject.

After a year of inactivity, the Hi-Y Club of Great Falls was re-organized in the fall of 1930, under the able leadership of Mr. Bartle, secretary of Boys' work of the Y. M. C. A. At the same time Mr. Garver was chosen faculty advisor, and the Reverend Nelson of the United Brethren Church was made discussion leader for the ensuing year.

The purpose of the organization is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character. The club platform is "Clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living."

Weekly suppers and meetings are held at the "Y" each Friday as well as a gym hour preceding. The club roster is now full, active membership being limited to twenty-five Junior and Senior boys of the high school.

The club has had many benefitting discussions this year, in addition to a week-end camping trip which took place last fall. The organization is getting under way in fine style, and a very interesting activities program is planned for the near future.

At the beginning of the second semester of the present school year, a new club was inaugurated in the High School for the benefit of the more pugilistic element of the students. The membership was unrestricted, and many students immediately joined. Officers were elected and the club organized under the title of "The Boys' Athletic Club." Mr. C. L. Paulsen of the Printing Department, sponsored the club and instructed the boys in the fundamentals of wrestling. Former boxers of the city, among which were Jack Nuckols, Clifford Rossberg, and Joe Lincoln, donated their services to promote more skillful boxing. Both wrestling and boxing bouts were arranged between various members of the club, and took place in the corrective gym. The members had the privilege of using this gym every afternoon, and many students utilized the equipment placed there for them.

During the carnival, the club put on a boxing and wrestling show, which greatly pleased its audiences.

The club will continue next fall and all students interested are urged to join.

To avoid congestion and to obtain an orderly business-like filing between classes, a Student Traffic Squad was appointed. An attempt was made to select representative members of the upperclassmen for this squad. They were not policemen, but rather guides or aides, whose chief responsibilities were to suggest improvement and to set an example.

The administration was especially anxious to reduce the running on the stairways and in the corridors, and gang loitering between classes. Each teacher was urged to cooperate with this squad by remaining in the corridor just outside the room during the filing between classes. The teachers aided the traffic squad members whenever their authority was disputed by offending pupils, or whenever their suggestions were not carried out.

FEATURES

G. F. H. S. Library

Although not a year old, the library is a source of a great deal of pride and pleasure. It has added dignity to the school, and provided students with a valuable opportunity for practical investigation.

The shelves, still far from filled, are being rapidly stocked with a wide variety of books. Some have been supplied by generous contributors; others have been purchased with the library fund.

The fact that the library is full each period attests its popularity, making it necessary to have student help. Miss McCulloh, the librarian, had for her assistants the first semester, Eloise Mickey, Frances Baker, Nadine Whitford, Madelaine Smith, Annie Wren, Marion O'Leary, and Frances Bovee. Second semester: Eloise Mickey, Frances Bovee, Ruth Cobban, Madelaine Smith, Marion O'Leary and Carol Hougen. These girls are Juniors and Seniors and for the most part plan to take up library work in college.

THE PROPHECY

On a hot afternoon in May I was endeavoring to read about twenty pages of technical history, but an obstreperous fly persisted in buzzing about my olfactory organ. Finally I could resist Morpheus' invitation no longer. I gently dozed off to sleep, but the buzzing continued, and crescendoed until it seemed to be immediately above my head. I looked up and perceived a familiar coiffure. Sure enough, Joan Ludwig was gracefully landing her plane. I walked over toward her, but stopped when I saw Esther Strauss and Carroll Blend climb from the cabin. The radiance surrounding their countenances led me to believe that they had just embarked on the Sea of Matrimony. Next Hubert Thomte, in black ministerial vestments, descended, and my suspicions were confirmed.

I went down to the city with Joan, and we went into a theatre which was advertising John Keever in the "Flying Dutchman." As a novelty the management presented a chorus consisting of Judy Bowman, Jean Hunter, Gladys Blaine, Loris Didricksen, Florence Murphy, Edna Peterson, and Ruth Kane. Dorothy Cole was the star, and a stunning one. Albert Schifelbein graciously consented to render a few numbers for our entertainment. He is making a nation-wide tour after returning from the capitals of Europe.

After the show, Joan took me to her apartment, which was on the top floor of a building which resembled the pyramids in architecture. I picked up a newspaper and was vaguely surprised that it was dated October 1, 1945. Judging from the front page headlines, Lloyd Woodahl has succeeded Al Capone as the head of the Chicago gangsters, and Jack Pope is running for president on the Republican ticket. His opponent is Paul Trigg. Wondering who the editor was, I turned to the editorial page, and discovered that Jack Roney was the editor, ably assisted by Vernice Baker and Norma Smith. On the back page were a series of cartoons by Glenn Shelton.

Joan was leaving for South America and she cordially invited me to go with her. We raced a train which was run by Johnny Goggin, and finally were able to beat it by going two miles a minute. Choo Choo is evidently in his glory now. At length we were flying over South America. A battle seemed to be in progress below me. Seizing my binoculars, I surveyed the field. At the head of one army was that fighting Irishman, Owen Murphy, making faces at Charlie Gies, who led the other. Charlie was the victor of the gory battle.

A few miles farther we landed at a mission in the midst of the Amazon forest. Here Bonny Eakman, Helen Wilson, and Marie Wilkinson were Christianizing the savage tribes of the Amazon. They told us of a group of explorers who were investigating the civilization of the ancient Mayas. Dude Midkiff was in charge of the expedition, and was ably assisted by Eloise

Mickey, who is connected with the Smithsonian Institute, together with Malcolm Mitchell, William Morris, and Erling Olsen.

After dinner we set out for Buenos Aires, where Bud Southmayd and Wilford Willey are in charge of station BUNK. We landed at a large airport belonging to Glenn Jeffrey. I recognized some of the machinists even though their features were covered with grease. Bob Bovee was working industriously on a large plane, not too ably assisted by Steve Angland, while Mary Brickson and Ruth Coolidge came out to go over our plane. We spent the night at a magnificently furnished hotel, owned and operated by Leonard Halgren himself.

Early the next morning we left for Africa. Nearing the Gold Coast, a furious storm drove us far inland. The storm ceased as suddenly as it had begun, and Joan was able to make a safe landing before the gas tank became entirely empty. The instant we touched the ground, a shot rang out, and instantaneously a figure burst through the underbrush and ran toward a tall palm tree in the middle of a nearby clearing. A gigantic elephant pursued the fleeing man, but after reaching the palm he pulled out a large rifle and shot the mastodon. We ran to him, and were very pleasantly surprised to recognize Harry Taylor. A hail from above caused us to look up and we perceived Speed Andrews, perched on the extreme top of the tree and grinning like a Cheshire cat. The boys insisted upon taking us to their camp to meet the rest of the fellows. Thinking that they might have plenty of gasoline, we gladly accompanied them. At their camp we were delighted to find Bruce Nordeen, Don Smith, Hubert Shane, and Kenneth Holtz. Around the campfire that evening the boys told us that they had just finished building a Mammoth Dam at Victoria Falls. Bruce built it according to Hubert's plan while Don and Ken had wired it.

The next morning after we had filled our gas tank, we left for Bombay, where Joan had made an engagement for some stunt flying. We stopped at the old site of Troy on our way, and found Elizabeth Kliemann and Louise Solem industriously excavating. Elizabeth had recently come from Russia, and she told us that the latest Soviet government under By and Dan Corcoran seemed to be more stable than the previous regimes. I suppose the two Corcorans used the methods of a Montana Sheriff, and surprised the Reds.

After a few hours of fast flying we landed at the Green Airport of Bombay. None other than that demure lassie, Fern Green, operated this large outfit. Joan fulfilled her engagement and we set out for Shanghai. When we were approaching the Himalaya Mountains, the engine began to smoke and sputter. I looked at the gas guage—and it was absolutely empty. Suddenly we began to fall, at first slowly, then faster and faster toward a deep rocky canyon. Just before we hit the rocky floor which meant a lingering, horrible death, I awoke and to my great relief found that I was safe in the Study Hall!

Last Will and Testament

We, the Class of '31, being of a fairly sound mental and physical condition, realizing that soon we must leave our high school career, and desiring to perpetuate our memory among the insignificant underclassmen, do hereby make public our last will and testament.

We thank Miss Spaulding for her forbearance during these last four years, and sincerely hope that her next class will be easier to manage. We give Miss Houliston our sincere love and respect.

Hoping that they will make more use of it than we have, we leave the Juniors the privilege of using the main West entrance, and offer consolation for losing one Hi-Life campaign.

We leave the Freshmen all our sympathy, and some friendly advice. Don't climb up the sides of the fountains to drink—the janitors have orders to wipe all specks off the porcelain. When walking through the halls, don't stroll between some Senior's legs. He might be knock-kneed.

Bob Myers and Maurine Chamberlain leave their habit of giggling to Evelyn Conway. That blond Viking, Eddy Wilson, has decided to donate his good looks to Jack Swall, and in order to make Ray Stocker appreciate his fiery hair, Johnny Goggin wilingly gives Red his curly locks. Oliver Haney bequeaths himself to the Juniors. Queen O'Leary wills her sophistocated airs to anyone who wants them. Jack is willing to donate all his possessions to the underclassmen except Barbara. Bonny Eakman leaves the unsettled state of her love affairs to June Johansen. Elmo Abbott leaves his school-girl complexion, the envy of all the feminine element in school, to Austin Redding. Take care of it, Austin. Harry Stafford leaves his super-conceit to Bill Sanford. Charlie Gies and Monty Smith leave their position as quarterback to "Tubby" Gonser. Bob Bovee decides to keep her jollity in the family, so she gives it to Jenny. Paul Trigg wills his witty and sarcastic line to young Bob Colegrove. Tex Patton leaves Helen Armstrong his heart. Eloise Mickey leaves her love for athletics, and her gym suit to Peggy Haug. Behold, all ye scoffers of the Bonnie Scots, Mac Mitchell gladly bequeathes his fiery red hair and boundless good humor to anyone who has a secret desire for these two priceless gifts. Maxine Boyd leaves her flirtatious ways to Claretta Dunn. Improve on her technique, Claretta. Speed Andrews bequeaths his long nourished desires to be a big man to Rusty McCollom. Some of our artists have decided to relinquish their gifts. Lula Stevenson gives her ability to play the piano to Jim Humphrey. Glenn Shelton donates his cartooning to Katherine Hull. Don Bauer is to be the proud possessor of Wade Ross' golden baritone. Vera Bauer, after long consideration, leaves her charming personality and cuteness to Germaine Corcoran. Alden Lohrke wills his height to Jimmy Finn, and Wilford Willey is willing to give his blooming cheeks to Eleanor Hedburg. Now you can save money on rouge, Eleanor.

We hereby duly appoint Mr. Servoss the executor of this, our last will and testament, and sincerely hope he never executes it. Written in the presence of the undersigned.

TO THE CLASS OF '31

Happy days and happy nights,
Of crowded time do fly,
And many students full of pep
Travel out from Great Falls High.

Within our school presides a class,
An honored group that reigns supreme,
Throughout the days and years just past,
This class has held your esteem.

Football's been our long pursuit,
And basketball we oft-times win,
Upon the track we seldom failed,
To finish the tasks that others begin.

Our class is known throughout the State,
For music trophies small and great,
Our trophy case is filled to the brim,
With cups and medals won of late.

Our class is first to graduate,
From out our building of brick and tile,
And first to guide the Bison herd,
Through many a corridor and long aisle.

Though friendship's sometimes hard to gain,
Our friends we love with might and main,
Within the halls or up the street,
We meet and call them each by name.

Greet the Class of '31,
Stand and cheer with loud applause,
Turn the pages they've begun,
And carry on without a pause.

From day to day the time has flown,
The Senior Class will e'er prevail,
As they go out in life alone,
And gain success where others fail.
